"BIG FOUR" DEFENDERS OF POLO
CUP OUTSIDE AND OUT-
PLAY THE ENGLISH.

WHITNEY'S TEAM IN FINE FORM

Score Was Waco in South-Brilliant Played Best in the Fifth Period.

Manchester Club, L. 1, June 10.—Overriding and outplaying the English polo players, the American cup-defending team today won the opening game of the sixth international match by a score of 5½ goals to 3. The English players did not show the vicious team play which had been credited to them before the game, nor did their game outplay the American mounts. In fact, the reverse was quite the case, and in almost every run down the field the American players either held their own or outplayed their counterparts in the game for the ball.

The contest was won by the American team with Larry Waterbury at number one, J. M. Waterbury, Jr., and L. B. Stoddard at number two, Captain R. P. Whitney at number three and Lawrence H. Brown at back, one as captain.

The challenging team, consisting of L. St. George, captain, at number one, Captain A. H. H. Edwards at number two, Captain R. A. H. Edwards at number three and Captain R. A. H. Edwards at number four, all of whom are excellent players, were in fine form.

Hardly had the teams taken the field when the American players were in fine form. The English team, however, lost a point because of a sharp counter-attack by Whitney. In the final period, the American team, which had been in fine form, won the game by a score of 5½ goals to 3.

PUBLICITY LAW IS HELD VALID

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS THE PROVISION OF POSTOFFICE
APPROPRIATION BILL.

PUBLISHERS MUST COMPLY

Or Forfeit Second-Class Mail Privilege—Not Intended to Restrict Freedom of the Press.

Washington, June 10.—The validity of the "newspaper publicity" law, enacted in 1911, as a provision of the postal appropriation act, was upheld today by the unanimous decision of the supreme court of the United States. Chief Justice White announced the court's conclusion.

This law requires every newspaper, magazine or other publication to file semi-annually with the postmaster general and the local postmaster general statements of the names of the editors, managers, owners, stockholders and bondholders, and in the case of daily newspapers, of the average daily circulation. Publication of these statements is required, and for failure to comply with any of the provisions, the publication shall be deemed to be "not a newspaper" and shall lose its right to the privilege of the mail.

A second paragraph provides that any "newspaper" publication shall be deemed to be "not a newspaper" and shall lose its right to the privilege of the mail.

The court's decision was based on the fact that the law was not intended to restrict the freedom of the press, but to protect the public interest in the publication of truthful and accurate information.

After interpreting the provision as imposing conditions upon the use of the second-class mail, the chief justice declared that the law was valid.

LOBBYIST IS A WELL PAID HAND

AGENT OF SUGAR PRODUCERS
GETS $12,000 A YEAR AND
$2,000 EXPENSES.

IS NOT FOR PENAL LABOR

Tells Senate Committee of Method of Properly Publicity Articles for the Press.

Washington, June 10.—For six hours today former Governor Carter and Sidney Ballou, two of the men who have conducted the fight of Hawaiian producers in Washington to retain the duty on sugar, outlined to the senate lobby investigating committee their activities here and elsewhere.

Governor Carter testified that he was paid nothing and received only his expenses. Mr. Ballou said he was the regular agent of the sugar producers in Washington, with a salary of $12,000 a year and $2,000 a year for expenses.

Both agreed that about $100,000 had been spent by the sugar people in their campaign against free sugar, but denied that they had any tangible contribution between the United States and Hawaiian sugar producers with a common fund directed to influence legislation.

Senator Reed and Reed put Governor Carter through a sharp cross-examination under which the witness appeared fully able to take care of himself. He declared that an audience with President Wilson for the Hawaiian sugar producers had been denied by Secretary Taft and that a member of the senate finance subcommittee in charge of sugar had suggested that they be given a hearing "after the passage of the bill."

Mr. Ballou said later that Senator Gore had made this statement. Claim Party Whip.

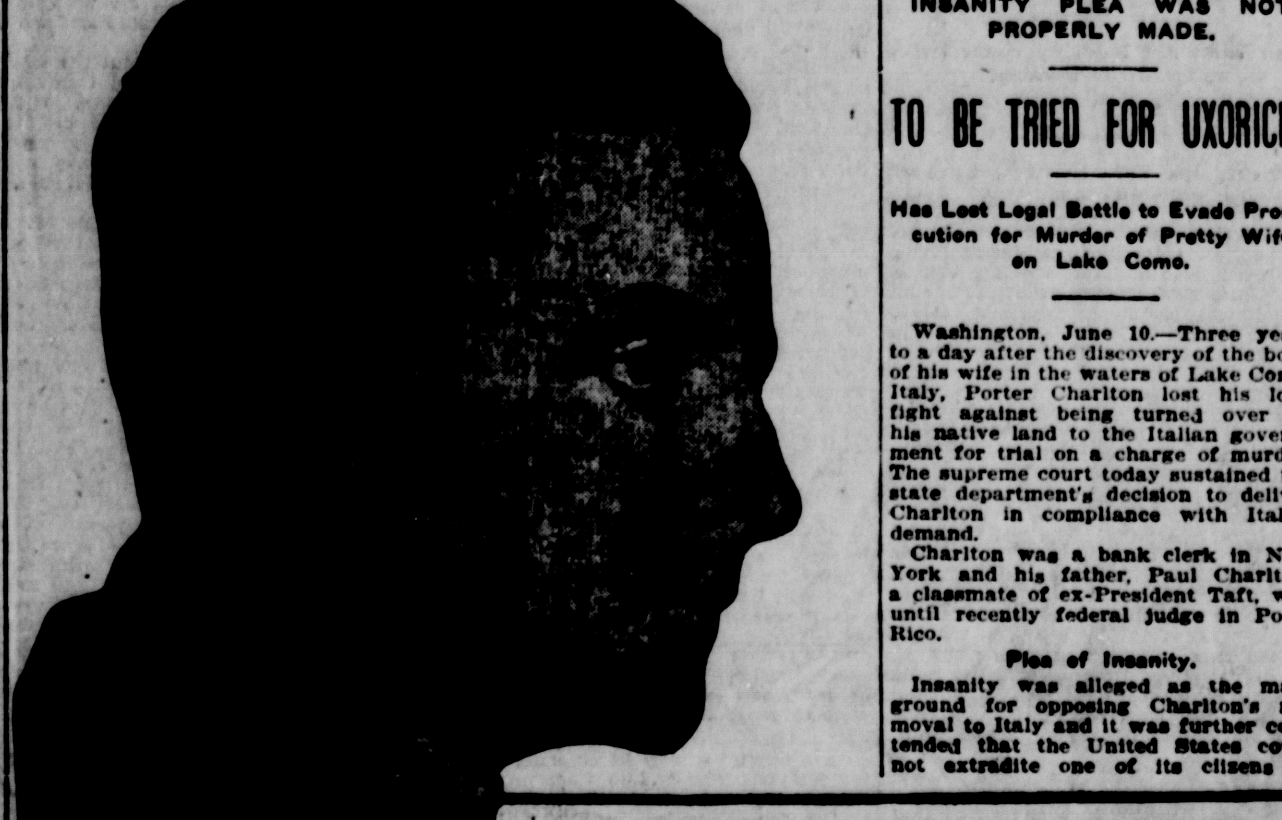

Governor Carter said that three senators, Swannick, Lewis and Williams, had told him and Hawaiian friends that they were not in sympathy with free sugar, but since it was advocated by the democratic party they must vote for it. He declared that he had gotten no satisfaction when he spoke of hearings to members of the cabinet, congressmen and senators.

Senator Reed asked Ballou if the Hawaiian producers were not anxious for a return of the general labor system. He read a statement to the effect of what he said was a "repressed" report by Daniel J. Kane, former commissioner of immigration.

There are about as many questions in Hawaii who favor a return to the general labor system as there are in the south who favor a return to slavery," answered the witness.

Senator Reed quoted at length from the Kane report on conditions in Hawaii. The report declared that the Hawaiian producers were not in favor of a return to the general labor system, but that they were in favor of a return to the general labor system.

Porter Charlton Must Answer to Italy

Washington, June 10.—Three years today after the discovery of the body of his wife in the waters of Lake Como, Italy, Porter Charlton lost his long fight against being turned over by his native land to the Italian government for trial on a charge of murder. The supreme court today sustained the state department's decision to deliver Charlton in compliance with Italy's demand.

Charlton was a bank clerk in New York and his father, Paul Charlton, a classmate of ex-President Taft, was until recently federal judge in Porto Rico.

Insanity was alleged as the main ground for opposing Charlton's removal to Italy and it was further contended that the United States could not extradite one of its citizens to Italy.

NOT A STANDARD SAYS E. R. BROWN

DENIES OWNERSHIP OF MAGNOLIA
LIA IS VESTED IN THE GREAT CORPORATION.

ARCHBOLD AND FOLGER STOCK

Is an Individual Investment, as Manager Takes No Direction from Other People.

Corsicana, June 10.—An effort to force an admission from E. R. Brown, vice president and general manager of the Magnolia Petroleum company, that John D. Archbold and H. C. Folger Jr. own practically 90 per cent of the stock of the Magnolia as officials of the Standard Oil company and not as individuals and that the Magnolia is the only company in Texas through which the Standard Oil company operates, was made this afternoon just before adjournment of the state of Texas' $50,000,000 penalty and ouster suit against the Magnolia company and the Standard Oil company of New York and New Jersey, by Assistant Attorney General C. A. Swenson, who conducted today's hearing before Commissioner Charles C. Robey, for the state.

The ownership of the stock in the Magnolia company by the Standard Oil company has been admitted throughout, but Mr. Brown replied emphatically that Mr. Archbold and Mr. Folger own the stock as an individual investment and that the Magnolia Petroleum company is not a Standard Oil property and that neither the Standard of New York nor the Standard of New Jersey dictates its business affairs.

"Has the Standard Oil company got any subsidiary company doing business in Texas today, in which directors and officers of the oil trust are heavily interested other than the Magnolia company?" asked the assistant attorney general.

Not a Standard Company.

"The Magnolia Petroleum company is not a Standard Oil company," replied the witness.

"Don't Folger and Archbold own 90 per cent of the stock?"

"I don't know whether they do or not; the records will show if they do."

A calculation was made showing that of the 24,500 shares of Magnolia stock Mr. Folger and Mr. Archbold own 17,976 shares each, or 73 per cent plus.

"That's a pretty large part of it, isn't it?" asked Mr. Swenson.

"Yes; but it isn't all of it; I own some of it myself. All of my money is in Magnolia and I don't want to have the state of Texas take it away from me," countered Brown.

"How do you know John D. Archbold and H. C. Folger Jr. own this stock individually?"

"I know it because I have a written statement from them that they own it and because they told me they owned it, and I believed them," said Mr. Brown.

Managing His Own Business.

"You are doing your managing the affairs of Mr. Archbold and Mr. Folger, and you ought to know definitely, oughtn't you?"

"I am managing the business of the Magnolia Petroleum company, in which I am interested."

"You know, don't you," thundered Mr. Swenson, "that with Archbold and Folger owning all this stock in the Magnolia company they would not put another company in the field to compete with themselves?"

"I don't know anything about Mr. Archbold's and Mr. Folger's personal business," replied the witness.

During the colloquy, which grew heated, the attorney referred to the "oil trust" and the "Standard Oil company."

"Which Standard Oil company do you mean?" asked Brown.

"There is but one oil trust."

"The supreme court of the United States has said that there is no oil trust now," retorted the witness.

Practically the entire afternoon was taken up in an investigation of the selling methods of the Magnolia company and a large number of letters from A. B. Eble of Dallas, manager of the sales department, to Mr. Brown, was read.

The state sought to show that Mr. Folger directed the price paid by the Magnolia company for crude oil and the price at which it sold its refined product.

"Mr. Folger did not dictate anything to me and I want to get that into the record right now," declared Mr. Brown, who was the witness all day, at one time showing some heat.

Yesterday the state contended that the Magnolia was the only company in Texas selling Standard Oil products, and today Mr. Brown brought into court a can of lubricating oil manufactured by the Standard, which he said he had witnessed to show he purchased at the salesrooms of the Pierce-Fordyce company, a competitor.

The state also sought to prove by the witness that Martin Carey of New York, general attorney for the Standard Oil company of that state, was interested as counsel in this suit, but the witness declared he did not know whether Mr. Carey or any other Standard Oil attorney had anything to do with it.

Large contracts which the Magnolia company has with railroads and other large consumers also were investigated by the state with a view to bringing out possible Standard Oil connections, but with little result.

Ownership of Bonds.

One series of questions sought to develop the ownership of $10,000,000 in bonds of the Magnolia Petroleum company, the state attempting to show that John D. Rockefeller owns $4,600,000 of the bonds. Mr. Brown said he did not know who holds the bonds and the attorney for the defense claimed that Mr. Rockefeller does not now and did not own the bonds when the suit was filed.

Another line taken up was the ownership of the pipe lines and steamship companies by which the Magnolia company ships and receives oil. The witness

TO PROBE FRISCO FAILURE

Interstate Commerce Commission to Investigate Into All the Details of Road.

Washington, June 10.—Affairs of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, now in receivers' hands, were the subject of attack in both houses of congress today. The senate, through the passage of the Kenyon resolution, called on the Interstate Commerce commission to investigate the affairs of the road and furnish complete information as to its relations with the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and as to the extent and present ownership of its bonds and other securities.

A demand for a special investigation by a committee of congress was made in the house by Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois in a resolution asking for a thorough probe of the road's operations. The Hinebaugh resolution would direct the commission to recommend a law to govern the reorganization of railroads generally.

During consideration of the Kenyon resolution Senator Newlands said members of the Interstate Commerce commission would welcome the opportunity to go into the affairs of the bankrupt road.

"I hope the Interstate Commerce commission will take up the greater question of the control of the issuing of securities and the supervision of holding companies and will recommend a law that will establish proper restraints," he said.

Senator Newlands declared there had been "great laxity" regarding the capitalization and issuance of stocks and bonds of railroads as evidenced by the fact that the St. Louis & San Francisco had obligations of nearly $75,000 per mile.

People Will Investigate Origin of the Road.

Paris, Tex., June 10.—Deport Texas, had a $50,000 fire at one o'clock this morning, believed to be of incendiary origin. Elmer and Ernest Hays were slightly injured fighting flames. This was the second disastrous fire in five months at Deport.

Five brick buildings, including the Edgar Smith hardware; E. H. Galt, general merchandise; C. E. Binnion, furniture; City Barber shop, and Isabella's confectionary stores, a mass meeting has been called to investigate the fire's origin.

GO THE LIMIT.

A bit from the Kansas City Journal that seems to be much admired by those of our sort of struggle responsible for the appearance of at least twenty inches of facile-seeming wit daily, tells that "Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle will arrive in Kansas City today and will speak in the Auditorium theatre. The subject of his address will be, 'Hell Destroyed.' Electric ventilators have been provided for the purpose of keeping the theatre cool." But what avails a comfortable religion comfortably administered? We notice that even those Texas parsons who devote an occasional diatribe to hf and d are arranging for Wednesday and Sunday night gatherings in the open. Let them also hold forth Sunday mornings under an umbrella and the Texas sun if they would escape the charge of inability to make the most of a fierce foretaste of that gainst which they warn. Who needs a sermon on hell in a church electrically cooled?

Miss Pankhurst is almost Tennysonian in her tribute to the lately reckless and now forever still Miss Davison. But if it will inspire these doers of violent deeds, let not her tomb be costly and her image thereupon and let not the story of her attempt to break up the Derby for all militant hearts be blazoned on her tomb in letters gold and azure. And let the government at last demand that police and soldiery put an end to these tragedies and outrages.

"As a means of preventing a business panic the simple process of refusing to be scared comes highly recommended," the Chicago Tribune finds. Especially if we pause to consider that those endeavoring to scare are merely pretending to be scared.

Will the Dallas Press club have the unmitigated nerve to serve either pot liquor or buttermilk at the Lowrey-Green debate-banquet on the superiority of either drink over t'other?

"The Shenandoah Valley to hear again crack of carbine." Why not cast the colonel for the ride? Is it to be thought he would shrink from the "terrible oath"?

With the passing of Miss Davison we fear the militants will revive that popular wall of some years syne, "Though You're Gone You're Not Forgotten."

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

Commissioner Dollins was instructed by the city commission to investigate the smashing of private property and personal injuries caused by the fire chief's motor car running wild on Austin avenue the night of June 2. The commissioner investigated. He presented his report, with sworn statements by witnesses to the smash-up, to the commission yesterday. He advised that the chief's car "was running at an unnecessarily high rate of speed at the time." He recommended that the chief and the driver be brought before the mayor and reprimanded—"the lightest penalty possible," in his opinion. Mr. Dollins has done his duty. His report and recommendation are plain, speak for themselves. The commission discussed these, but all it did was to "receive" the report.

What are you going to do about this matter, gentlemen? Is it your duty either to adopt or reject the report of this inquiry instructed by you. You called for the investigation the morning after the smash-up, when public indignation was fresh. The incident has not been forgotten. Mr. Dollins' report should not be pigeon-holed and dropped. What are you going to do about it?

Fires in this city have been within one mile of the places where motor apparatus is stationed. Running at twenty-five miles an hour the apparatus would reach the blaze about one minute later than at fifty miles an hour—and its chances of reaching the fire safely to itself and the public would be increased inculcably. If the drivers of motor apparatus do not realize this, it is the duty of the public safety commission to teach them. That minute saved counts for nothing in fighting the fire, but the speed at which the apparatus now travels through the public streets endangers life and property.

GOAL STRIKE SITUATION.

Further consideration of the claim of West Virginia coal operators that a conspiracy exists between the operators of adjoining states and officials of the United Mine Workers of America, to force such a wage scale in West Virginia that other coal fields can compete with the West Virginia product, reminds that the claim is not a new one and those who express surprise at the prosecution need not insist they have never before heard it. It has been talked for the last dozen years and it was freely stated at every mine headquarters and every tipple in the coal strike of eleven years ago. West Virginia produces a superior sort of coal—especially in the Kanawha and New River fields in the vicinity of Charleston, capital of the State. This coal is bituminous, easily mined and can be produced at a minimum of expense, and at the same time the operative—the miner—can make a living wage. The mines are driven into the side of the coal-bearing mountain range and are not shafts. On the other hand, mines in States adjoining West Virginia have a greater expense of production; miners demand a higher wage and conditions are different. Mine owners in the Kanawha and New River fields have been selling their coal to the fleets which ply the great lakes, transporting the product through the States of Indiana and Ohio. That this has caused jealousy and a competition that was not appreciated by the mine owners west of the State of West Virginia, is but natural. It was proved in the coal strike eleven years ago that mine owners of Ohio and Indiana sent their emissaries into West Virginia with money to persuade West Virginia miners to go west and work; the influence of the neighboring competitor was apparent in all the troubles and in every instance where the strike has been called the workers who have been most prominent are those who have come from other States. The headquarters of the United Mine Workers if America are in Indianapolis and it is freely stated in West Virginia that Indiana mine owners have done these things to force higher cost of production so that the better coal, produced at less expense, could not meet them in competition. West Virginia mine owners believe this. That they have finally brought the situation to the attention of the Federal grand jury is not surprising.

And some of the things charged by the resolution that created the senate committee of investigation, are true. Mine workers in West Virginia have a rough road to travel during a strike. Armed guards patrol every road about a mine holding and these armed guards carry federal injunctions which are served on every passer-by. The road to the postoffice is often barred by a "no trespass" sign, and sometimes only the company physician, who will not answer calls by men who "have left the company employ," is the only available doctor for the sick and the suffering. Company stores that will not sell to men on strike are the only supply stations and while there is a strike pending there are privation and distress.

But the mine owners think they are fighting other forces than the mine workers. They consider they are being ground between the upper and the nether millstones, and they do not give in an inch.

It is believed the owners would be willing to grant the check weighman whom the workers demand; that they would adjust the wage scale and fix the size of the screen, if they were left to deal only with their own conditions—with the local situation. But the outsiders—the men from Indiana and Ohio and other States—want to "put up the price" and fearing to give an inch, that the others may take an all, West Virginia owners fight and fight to the last ditch.

The indicted men in the present instance are to be tried before Judge Ben F. Keller of Bramwell, West Virginia. This judge lives in a village surrounded entirely by mines. He knows local conditions and has been through several of these strike episodes. He heard the cases against striking miners eleven years ago and in the proceeding he leaned over the bench in the federal court room at Charleston and said to a mine worker's wife who was on the witness stand: "You say you have not been allowed to go to the postoffice. I say to you now, to all of your associates in this court, and I want you to take this message to your people in the mining country, that the road to every United States postoffice is an open one; every citizen has the right to travel it without hindrance, and if there is a complaint brought to this court of a specific instance, with the name of the offending party, I will send him to jail."

Mine owners of West Virginia have their troubles as well as mine workers. If the whole truth can be brought out by the senate investigating committee and the trial under the Sherman law, a very serious situation will be clarified because a State of war exists and will continue until men who are responsible for the agitation are restrained.

The Underwoodbillists cry, "For the Nation!" and the antiUnderwoodbillists, "Ruination!"

THE NEW MARTYRDOM.

The first death caused by the violence of the English militants was not a murder but in effect a suicide. Emily Wilding Davison threw herself in the way of the king's horse at the Derby, attempting to break up the race; her "protest" in the name of the equal suffrage cause; she died of resulting injuries three days thereafter. The correspondents and her crowd write her down "the first martyr" in the Englishwomen's crusade for the suffrage. It was seen to that spectacular circumstance should attend her passing and a London publication prints a message from a daughter of the Pankhursts declaring to the world that the woman died for the freedom of women. "Her memory," the Pankhursts' daughter wrote from Paris, "will live in women's hearts for all time. There will be a public funeral in honor of this soldier who has fallen in the war for freedom."

There has long been public protest through England to the dishonor of these "soldiers" who are burning, blasting and breaking. There has long been loud complaint, wholly righteous, that the British government is spineless in this crisis. There will be more deaths; we fear there will be deaths that must be called murders under the British law itself—loss of life in the course of these dynamiting and arson exploits, acid and bomb throwings. Some of these women and some of their victims may die of blows sustained in the riots the Woman's Social and Political Union projects. She who lauds the woman dead of her own violence at Epson Downs, the woman who had attempted to injure herself several times in the course of her wild behavior, who battered a clergyman whom she mistook for the chancellor of the exchequer, who forced her way into the house of commons on several occasions—she who lauds Miss Davison for her "sacrifice" says that the death will convince the premier of the seriousness of his position.

At least it should convince the government, finally, that this era of violence by the women of the union must be ended—ended by the ordering of as great force as the crusaders employ, if necessary. Most of us call Miss Davison's conduct madness; most of us, recalling the stuff martyrs were made of, of old, and the boredom of yesterday's martyrdom; thinking of

Luther and Joan and Nathan Hale and the heroes of fires, wrecks and mine disasters and battles as martyrs, will find it goes against the grain to call this violence-working Englishwoman a martyr. But a martyr she is, and a martyr to a great cause. However much we may condemn the methods of the militants we cannot deny they are as greatly inspired as they are wildly misdirected in their attempt to gain their end. They believe verily they are striving for the unshackling of womankind.

Miss Davison is the first example of the new martyrdom these women are courting. She is a martyr, too, to the weakness and inefficiency of the efforts of the British government to prevent such martyrdom. We are forced to agree with the Pankhursts' daughter that the tragedy will finally awake the government to a very grave danger.

"FREE TRADE" IS UP TO OTHERS.

The latest tilt of the tariff bill saw in the senate puts uppermost the protest of the farmers and stockraisers against including the agricultural schedules in the free listing and exposes the alternative proposition of the "countervailing duty." It is reported the party leaders "now believe they will satisfy everybody," by removing the cause of the strong complaint that our farmers could not compete with Canada and Argentina, say, on an unequal basis if livestock, meat, grain and its products were admitted free from these countries that impose a duty thereon for the American exporter. Should other nations remove the duty from such American products automatically these will be admitted free of duty here.

It is likely that those of the party who have been loudest against the free listing features of the Underwood measure may find themselves with less argument if the countervailing duty plan is effected. They have placed a deal of dependence on their position that the free list originally proposed by the bill provided for neither a measure of free trade nor for a revenue-raising tariff distributed as it ought to be distributed—on products of the sort they were directly interested in, of course. Now it is sought to put the responsibility elsewhere than on the leaders for the bill by making the duty on these agricultural imports no more and no less than the duty on them abroad; if "free trade" on these products is ever to be had it must be had at the instance of the nations we trade with. There is sagacity in this, and we cannot see why it does not largely answer the objections of our raisers and growers on the score of competition, for we think that on few, if on any, of the products in the agricultural schedule the United States cannot afford to meet such a reciprocal arrangement. It is at least the nearest approach to solving the problem of the demanded equalization of rates as between raw material and products in livestock and grain among the changes that have thus far been proposed.

And it seems likely that the countervailing duty plan will come in for still more extensive application by the senate committee if the various protests are to result in substantial amendment of the bill.

Luther and Joan and Nathan Hale and the heroes of fires, wrecks and mine disasters and battles as martyrs, will find it goes against the grain to call this violence-working Englishwoman a martyr. But a martyr she is, and a martyr to a great cause. Should other nations remove the duty from such American products automatically these will be admitted free of duty here.

It is likely that those of the party who have been loudest against the free listing features of the Underwood measure may find themselves with less argument if the countervailing duty plan is effected. They have placed a deal of dependence on their position that the free list originally proposed by the bill provided for neither a measure of free trade nor for a revenue-raising tariff distributed as it ought to be distributed—on products of the sort they were directly interested in, of course. Now it is sought to put the responsibility elsewhere than on the leaders for the bill by making the duty on these agricultural imports no more and no less than the duty on them abroad; if "free trade" on these products is ever to be had it must be had at the instance of the nations we trade with. There is sagacity in this, and we cannot see why it does not largely answer the objections of our raisers and growers on the score of competition, for we think that on few, if on any, of the products in the agricultural schedule the United States cannot afford to meet such a reciprocal arrangement. It is at least the nearest approach to solving the problem of the demanded equalization of rates as between raw material and products in livestock and grain among the changes that have thus far been proposed.

And it seems likely that the countervailing duty plan will come in for still more extensive application by the senate committee if the various protests are to result in substantial amendment of the bill.

To suppose, for example, that Italy, Brazil, Sweden, Norway or France were to declare war on us, or that we should ever declare war on one of them would put a heavy task on the imagination. The disparity of strength as between us and any one of them is too great to make war possible. War between the United States on the one hand and Great Britain or France on the other, is even more inconceivable, though for other reasons. One might conceive some controversy capable of bringing the United States and Russia into war with each other, but even this, the least remote contingency of this nature, would also pretty heavily tax the imagination.—Dallas News.

literacy lessened. Take away the press and what would become of civilization? It is therefore the duty of everyone to boost the press rather than speak lightly of it, for every boost for the press is a boost for humanity.—San Angelo Standard.

But the press does not expect everyone to do his duty in this regard. It does not and should not even object to legitimate criticism, the right attitude for all who are charged with the direction of a public institution or utility. And these with a legitimate criticism of press conduct and policy must be listened to and given space; it is their due and their comment generally helps both makers and readers of the newspaper. This sort realize the newspaper had become indispensable as a civilizer, and they would not have it otherwise. So their efforts to keep the record as it should be kept are prompted by this understanding of the press's power and duty. But we think the Standard tells of the other sort: the "inspired" detractor, the chronic fault-finder, they who would mix it up with a windmill to obtain notoriety. It seems to us the attitude of these gentry is largely the fault of the press itself; the press has paid altogether too much attention to them in the past, weakly playing into their hands too frequently. It is strange that an intelligently conducted newspaper so often deliberately offers itself as the grindstone when it must see the ax handle projecting from beneath its detractor's cantails.

Yet Once More.

And now come the boot sugar interests, protesting against the placing of sugar on the free list. An official of the Michigan sugar trust says all the mills of that section will likely have to close down with such a change in the tariff. He intimates that the mills will be making a living profit now, and that with sugar on the free list the American refineries would be "put on the hummer." Too bad, indeed.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

With the Michigan "trust" officers' statement in the one hand and the government's latest report concerning the extent of American sugar interests' supply of the American market in t'other, we can think of no other reply than the sometime popular song which asserts that some individual or other was guilty of fabricating an inaccuracy.

Curfew in San Benito.

A pamphlet entitled "Beneficial Results of the Curfew" was handed the Light by a lady friend of this paper who is among those who wishes to see the curfew ordinance enforced in San Benito. In this pamphlet numerous beneficial results of the curfew are enumerated, but, to our mind, a single paragraph has sufficient meaning to emphasize the advantages of curfew regulation. We quote: "The conscientious enforcement of a sane curfew trains children in respect for the ordinances of the city, thus laying a foundation for respect for State and National laws; a much needed training in these days of general disregard of laws, both human and divine—almost an echo of the pompous pious Jeremy. 'Trains children in respect for the ordinances' is good, nowadays. Rather does a curfew train them for boy nature is the same in all generations—in expert exit and entrance from and into the second story via the low, sloping roof over the back porch; surreptitious contriving at nighty games made all the more exciting, glamorous, because forbidden and taboo of the constable. 'Dine free! The escape from the house—how we boys loved it!' Kenneth Grahame makes the youthful chronicler of 'The Golden Age' say—or something like that. No; San Benito folk will not find the curfew a 'dumbest-installer.' And just what need has the peaceful hamlet of San Benito of a curfew?"

Slightly Minded.

A special constable fired a shot at an escaping man and killed an innocent person in the next block. If this had happened in Boston, where 164 policemen surrounded a bandit and fired a number of shots estimated at 1500 at him, after which he became discouraged and committed suicide, nothing would have been thought of it, but it occurred in San Antonio, and in Texas people are supposed to be more choosers. So Mayor Steves thinks it is time to install a police shooting gallery.—San Antonio Light.

It may be we have overlooked the occasional waste of ammunition by the Boston blues the Light refers to, if this is an incident of comparatively recent reporting. It does no harm to the tellers of the old page to keep the record straight among themselves, however, and if the Light's versatile writer of leaders is referring to the bandit battle in the Forest Hills Cemetery, more than five years ago, his statement is in need of slight revision as to the number of bandits and the manner in which the suicide was moved. After doing murder and robbery in the glooms of the neighborhood, these bandits were brought to bay in the cemetery, retreating from headstone to headstone and tomb to tomb; and as granite and marble are not vulnerable or mortal, naturally many of the Boston "belle" bullets were of no avail. Let us give over a Boston policeman his due. And let San Antonio's constabulary be given lessons in more than pistol performance.

AFTER A WORLD WIDE MEET

Waco Baraca-Philathea Union Has Interesting Session and Talk Plans.

Waco Baraca-Philathea Union met in regular monthly session at the Columbus Street Baptist church last night and in addition to a musical program, plans of the delegates to the Nashville convention were disclosed, followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Miss Minnie Lee Backstrom of Temple, the Philathea state secretary, was in the city for the meeting and made a short and enthusiastic speech of encouragement to the delegates to bring the next world-wide convention to Waco.

One of the main features of the evening's program was the selections by the Columbus Sunday school orchestra, which consisted of Mrs. Mamie B. Ferguson, director; Misses Florence Walls and Willie Raborn, W. S. Allen, Charles D. Tilley and Burnett Brown. Miss Majorie Kendrick gave a piano number; Miss Martha Withers sang a solo, and Misses Ruth and Pauline Cobb rendered an instrumental duet.

After the program a business session was held to hear the report of the committee on enlisting the delegates and bringing the 1914 convention to Waco, presided over by Jan. R. Jenkins and Miss Lizzie Akin. J. Bates McKinney, chairman of the committee, reported that he had gotten things well lined up for handling the annual convention and that he had the pledges of fifty-three delegates with the promise of many more. He read a number of letters showing that a strong pull could be made in the convention in behalf of Waco. One letter was from the Y. M. B. L. of the city, promising $1,500 toward entertaining the convention; another was an invitation from the governor; one from the Texas Ad Men's Clubs and a number of others of the same tenor. He further stated that the fact of Waco's striving for the convention had been well advertised; that several thousand letters had been written and articles had appeared in some six hundred newspapers. The committee has prepared a bountiful supply of all kinds of badges, pennants and booster banners.

As a climax to the evening the Columbus Baraca and Philathea, as hosts, invited the several hundred visitors into the parlors of the church for an informal reception and refreshments.

CHARLTON MUST ANSWER

stirred Europe and America as have few murders of recent years. With the discovery of her crumpled body stuffed into a trunk and sunk in Lake Como, Italy, where she had been with her husband to spend her honeymoon, both continents turned to search for the murderer.

The first great problem to solve was the whereabouts of the twenty-one-year-old husband, who, as a bank clerk in New York, had married the woman, eight years older than himself, and the divorced wife of Neville H. Castle, a San Francisco lawyer. His father, Paul Charlton, law advisor of the bureau of insular affairs and former President Taft's classmate, was firm in the conviction that his son, too, had been murdered. That question was solved when Porter Charlton, with his initials marked on his suit case, arrived on a steamer from Italy, a few days late at Hoboken, N. J. That night there appeared a confession bearing his name.

"My wife and I lived happily together, but she had an uncontrollable temper, and so I read the confession. On the night of the murder she had the worst outbreak of temper I ever saw. I told her to keep quiet or I would make her keep quiet. Then she had another outbreak. I had been repairing a table, and hit her on the head and body two or three times. At midnight I put the body in a trunk, dragged it to a small pier near the house, and threw it overboard."

With the acceptance of the confession as a solution of the crime, there arose almost at once the diplomatic problem of Charlton's extradition. It was admitted on all hands that Charlton could not be tried in the United States for a crime committed in Italy. His friends, headed by his father, took the position that he could not be extradited to Italy, because Italy had already refused, under the extradition treaty of 1868 to return Italian subjects to the United States to answer for crimes committed here.

Italy, however, made a request for the prisoner. Secretary Knox parried by asking if Italy thereby meant to waive its past interpretation of the treaty. Months of diplomatic exchanges followed.

Court Rules Against Him.
Judge John A. Blair of the court of Oyer and Terminer in Hudson county, N. J., sitting as a federal extradition magistrate, held Charlton subject to extradition. The court declined to receive evidence of Charlton's insanity on the ground that under the law of New Jersey defenses could not be made at a preliminary hearing of the nature then before the court.

Secretary Knox approved that holding, taking the position that inasmuch as Charlton could not be brought to answer for the crime in this country, the United States would adhere to its interpretation of the treaty by surrendering him to Italy.

Charlton's father then began the last fight to save his son from extradition. He applied to the circuit court of the United States for New Jersey for his release on habeas corpus proceedings, holding that the treaty did not justify the extradition and that evidence of sanity should have been received. The circuit court refused to grant his release, but Charlton appealed to the supreme court. It was this appeal that was acted upon today.

Evidence of Insanity.
As evidence of Charlton's insanity, his counsel offered to prove that as a child he had fits of extreme rage, giving as one instance his begging to be permitted to take vengeance on a horse that had run away with him.

Another instance referred to was the occasion when Paul Charlton, his father, inquired as to his son's resources, when told of his marriage, the result being that the son refused to dine with him, and later, on his honeymoon trip, wrote to his father a letter "so full of foulness and abuse that the father destroyed it unread, except a glance through it to see its purport."

Evidence was offered to show that the family history of Porter Charlton supported the claim of insanity. Counsel offered to offer testimony on the medical history of the murdered wife to show she had once been confined in an institution in New York, suffering from erotic insanity. It was explained that her condition was important bearing on Charlton's mental condition.

NEGRO IS SHOT AND KILLED.

Mose Carter Is Victim of a Fatal Scuffle for Gun.

Mose Carter, a negro about 35 years of age, was shot and killed at 705 Morrow street last night at 8:30. Carter was employed by Hill Brothers & Co., plumbers.

Lawrence Cobb was arrested at 10 o'clock by George Barnard, Jr., charged with the killing. Cobb says he had trouble with Carter and Carter drew a pistol and attempted to shoot. According to Cobb a tussle ensued and Carter was killed. One bullet took effect above the right eye and the other in the right hand.

Cobb is wounded, having been shot in the right leg and through the left wrist.

Neighbors say the negroes had been having trouble at the house all the afternoon. Cobb was transferred to the county jail last night. The body of the negro was taken to the Fall Undertaking establishment.

Excelsior and Harley-Davidson Motorcycles LEAD ALL OTHERS.

A man stepped into our store the other day. "Mr. Hall," he said, "why is it that about three out of every four motorcycles I see running on the streets are either EXCELSIORS or HARLEY-DAVIDSONS?"

"Because," I replied, "the Excelsior and Harley-Davidson motorcycles are honestly built, give better value for the money, last longer, are the simplest to operate and run better than any other make. They have all the latest improvements, such as the grip controlled free engine clutch, full "floating" seat (the easiest riding made) etc. They out pull any other make, and hold all world records for speed and endurance."

"I cannot understand," he replied, "why any one can buy some inferior motorcycle when they can get an EXCELSIOR or HARLEY-DAVIDSON at popular prices."

He was exactly right, too.

All we ask is a chance to show you.

TREE FALLS ON WAGON.

Texas Is Killed at Shreveport by the Accident.

Shreveport, La., June 10.—Samuel Stiles of Waxahachie, youngest of the family of seven Stiles brothers, who have made fortunes in the Caddo oil fields in the past few years, was instantly killed and a negro driver of the wagon in which he was riding was probably fatally crushed yesterday afternoon when a dead tree fell across the vehicle as they passed along the road near Trees City.

To Bid for Histories.

Austin, June 10.—Bids accompanied by the necessary deposit money on the subject of United States history for the advanced grades in the public schools, have been filed with Governor

Colquitt by practically all of the companies who submitted bids to the state text book board.

The bids will be opened and adoption made June 17. All bids last year for a suitable advanced history of the United States proved unsatisfactory.

It is provided that the text book shall contain nothing of a partisan or sectarian character.

Three Convicts Escape.
Dallas, June 10.—Three convicts, one of them white, escaped under fire of their guards while working on the Fort Worth-Dallas pike today near Eagle Ford.

Fire at Cox Candy Factory.
Fire was discovered in the engine room of the Cox candy factory at Seventh and Mary streets last night at 9:15 o'clock. When seen the woodwork above the engine was blazing. The prompt work of the fire department prevented serious damage, the chemical being used to extinguish the fire. The fire will in no way delay the work in the candy factory.

CANNOT SUE FOR REBATES.
Supreme Court Denies the Damage Feature.

Washington, June 9.—Holding that one shipper cannot sue for rebates as damages because competitors received rebates, the supreme court today reversed the decision of the Pennsylvania courts.

Justice Pitney dissenting, declared the decision practically annulled the right of the shippers to sue for damages, conferred by recent legislation, leaving a right to sue only in the most negligible instances where the goods of a shipper came into competition with competitors who received rebates.

In a companion case, that of the Mitchell Coal and Coke company against the Pennsylvania railroad, the court held that shippers must go to the interstate commerce commission before suing in the courts to recover damages for unlawful discrimination in allowances for hauling on side tracks. Damages were held to be proper in that case because of "the unlawful" as distinguished from the "lawful" rate charged in the other case.

In still another case, that of the Morrisdale Coal company against the same railroad, the court held shippers must go first to the commission instead of the courts in cases of unlawful discriminations resulting from the distribution of cars.

Justice Pitney dissented in all these cases.

Increased carrying capacity, ability to turn in narrow streets and safety are claimed for new motor omnibuses in Paris which have six wheels, the center pair being the drivers and the others being used in steering.

Do You Buy Right?

Just now is a pretty good time to ask yourself that question: "Buying Tailor-Made Clothes right" means satisfaction and not price. It means, can you wear it and feel satisfied, a suit without that feeling of satisfaction isn't bought right at any price. Let us make your next suit. Satisfaction guaranteed.

INCREASE IN WAGES

CITY EMPLOYEES PETITION FOR AN ADVANCE IN SCALE OF PAY.

Will Add About $31 Per Day to the Salary Roll of the City If Granted.

Employees of the city street department want an increase in wages. A petition bearing the signature of some 100 employees and also the signature of a number of business firms, asking the increase, was presented to the city commission yesterday morning.

The increase asked for men and teams, $3.50 instead of $2; for drivers, $2.25 instead of $2; for foremen, $2.25 instead of $2; and for pick and shovel men, $2 instead of $1.75 per day.

The petition was referred to Commissioner Foster of streets and Commissioner Caulfield of the finance department.

Should the increase be granted it will add approximately $31 per day to the city's pay roll. At present there are twenty teams and drivers employed; fifty laborers, seven foremen employed. The proposed increase would amount to $10 per day for teams, $5 per day for drivers, $12.50 per day for laborers, and $3.50 per day for foremen.

The present pay roll of the city would for street workmen amounts to approximately $1,050. The proposed increase, it is estimated, would add $150 to $200 per week to this amount.

Commissioners Foster and Caulfield will consider the matter from the standpoint of whether the increase is deserving and also whether the city can afford to add that amount to its pay roll.

Discuss Social Evil.

Washington, June 9.—Discussion of the social evil and its suppression featured the first day's session of the International Association of Police Chiefs, which began its annual convention here today. In his welcoming address, President Richard S. Williams urged the members to do all in their power to aid the federal authorities in enforcing the "white slave" laws.

The chiefs were received at the white house by the president this afternoon.

Delegates to Prison Meeting.

Austin, June 9.—The governor today appointed the following delegates to represent Texas at the meeting of the American Prison association, to be held at Indianapolis, Oct. 11-16, inclusive: F. C. Welner, secretary of the house of representatives; R. W. Brahan of Huntsville, member of Texas Prison commission; A. W. Eddins, superintendent of the institution for the training of juveniles, Gatesville; Tom Flinty Jr., of Dallas; Lieutenant Governor Will H. Mayes of Brownwood; Father F. A. Heckman of Temple; Father J. M. Kirwin of Galveston.

TRUSTEES SALE

TO LIQUIDATE THE BUSINESS OF THE

R. L. MATTHEWS CO.

403 AUSTIN AVENUE, WACO, TEXAS

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE CREDITORS

F. T. Rand, H. P. Jordan and R. G. Watson, Trustees for the Creditors of the R. L. Matthews Co., turn over to H. L. Gilmore & Co., Commercial Adjusters of New York, the entire stock of the R. L. Matthews Co., consisting of clothing, furnishing goods, hats, caps, bags, suit cases, store fixtures, etc., in fact every asset owned and controlled by the R. L. Matthews Co. estate.

STARTING THURSDAY, JUNE 12TH, AT 9:00 A. M.

H. L. Gilmore & Co. Commercial Adjusters, will offer at public retail sale every asset of the above named R. L. Matthews Co., regardless of cost, loss or profit. As much of the stock and fixtures as possible will be sold at retail and the remaining stock and fixtures not sold at retail will be sold in bulk at a date to be determined and advertised later. The adjusters will proceed at once to wind up the business at the earliest possible moment to save time and expense.

As you read the contents of this advertisement you cannot help but marvel at the smallness of the prices. All the essentials that go to make a man's wardrobe are placed before you at figures that do not cover the cost of raw material. The purchasing power given your money by the force of this Trustee's Liquidation Sale enables you to buy now the articles you have done without before. The sale has nothing about it at all that savors of DOUBT, EXAGGERATION or SENSATION. It is purely a bona-fide offer easily understood, there is a reason for this sale, not a flimsy one made up for the occasion. You will find that it is something more than an ordinary sale. It is an opportunity, a chance—an occasion whereby those who are wise enough to take advantage of, are going to profit immensely. Every asset of the R. L. MATTHEWS CO.'S Estate must be turned into cash without delay and the business wound up for the benefit of creditors. Be on hand at the opening; there'll be plenty of salespeople to serve you.

H. L. GILMORE & CO., Commercial Adjusters.
Acting for F. T. Rand, H. P. Jordan and R. G. Watson, Trustees for Creditors.

STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF MCLENNAN—SS.

F. T. Rand, Managing Trustee, being duly sworn, deposes and says that together with H. P. Jordan and R. G. Watson, they are trustees of the Estate of R. L. Matthews Co., of Waco, Texas, appointed to liquidate its indebtedness; that as such Trustees they came into possession of all the assets of said R. L. Matthews Co., including stock of merchandise and fixtures of store occupied by it, and all bills receivable.

That as such Trustees, in order to convert said assets into Cash in the shortest possible time to liquidate (wind up) the business, they have turned over to H. L. GILMORE & CO., Commercial Adjusters of New York, the entire stock in trade for unrestricted sale thereof, in such manner and at such prices as to said adjusters shall seem best for immediate realization, and said H. L. Gilmore & Co. are authorized to offer said stock for sale on their own terms, and to convert any and all other assets into Cash, as well as to collect all receivables due us as Trustees.

F. T. RAND, Managing Trustee.
Subscribed and sworn to before me by F. T. Rand, this 19th day of May, 1913.
EDWARD HATERMAN, (Seal)
Notary Public, Kings County. Certificate filed in New York County.

We urge you to visit this Trustee's Sale. You will find yourself face to face with the greatest money saving inducements ever offered in Waco.

The necessity of the case has created for you an opportunity in the very height of season to take advantage of these money-saving reductions. The reasons are bona-fide; we are winding up the business of the R. L. MATTHEWS CO. and turning the assets into Cash for the benefit of Creditors. Read every line of this advertisement deliberately and carefully. The goods and the prices are exactly as represented; make out your list and bring it to the Sale with you. No matter how large the crowd, with such a memorandum we can serve you promptly.

Houston, June 10.—Beck's wild throws in the sixth gave Houston today's game, allowing the locals three runs on two wild throws. Otherwise the game, the fastest played at West End this year, was a good one. Whitman's hitting and remarkable catch in center field were the features. Tanner played a great defensive game.

Galveston, June 10.—Galveston and Dallas fought it out for twelve fast innings this afternoon and when the game was finally called on account of darkness the home plate had not been dented with the spikes of a single runner. Bader for the visitors and Sewell for the locals were the rival slab artists and it was a duel to the death, with both heaving going in great form.

Maloney put Madden to bat for Sewell in the eleventh and almost lost the game. He sent Dodd to the mound in the twelfth, but took him out after he walked the first batter and Hiett, though he filled the sacks, pulled out of the hole.

Rhoades, who worked for the visitors, pitched a better game than the local slogger, but the Panthers could not

Russell, a Former Fort Worth Pitcher Now With White Sox

"REB" RUSSELL

Callahan has plucked a star pitcher from the minors in Russell, his young southpaw, who has performed well on the several occasions that he has occupied the box. This twirler comes to the White Sox from Fort Worth in the Texas league.

Another good pitcher that the Chicago manager let slip through his fingers is George Johnson, the Indian pitcher, who went to Cincinnati at the waiver price. He has proved to be the Reds' winning pitcher. Callahan let him go because his style of pitching was similar to Lange and Benz, two of his experienced pitchers.

"Hetty" Green Is In Condition to Play Ball Again

"Hetty" Green, who was signed some weeks ago by Waco and has been out of the game since a few days after his arrival here from Indianapolis on account of a "charley horse," is able to get back into the game. He has been working out with Vic Miller every day for the past week and will be in good shape this week.

There is some doubt as to just whom Green belongs to. He came here from Indianapolis supposedly in good condition, but it is understood he received his injury while with that club. In that case the American Association team is responsible for him. Green will not likely play with Waco, but there is some liability that he will stay in the Texas League.

Vic Miller has been in Waco for some time. He will play with Houston.

League Directors Are to Settle the Franchise Matter

A meeting of the directors of the Texas League will likely be called by President Allen at Houston Thursday night to consider the Austin franchise matter.

It is understood that most of the directors are in favor of transferring the franchise to Shreveport, and in spite of the effort of some of the Austin fans to hold the club, Shreveport is still being favorably considered.

The meeting of the league directors has not been formally called, but if not Thursday night it will be later in the week. The matter of the franchise will be finally settled at the meeting.

McMahon Released.
Red McMahon was formally released by the Waco baseball club yesterday. McMahon has been under suspension since the trouble between himself and Manager Carson at Fort Worth, and has been in Waco pending further action by the club.

Cincinnati, June 10.—With two runs necessary to win, Philadelphia came to bat in the ninth and with three hits mixed with three stolen bases brought in enough tallies to defeat Cincinnati by the score of 3 to 2. Luderus knocked a home run in the fifth.

Chicago 3, New York 2.
Chicago, June 10.—Chicago defeated New York 3 to 2 today in ten innings.

The game was won by bunting hits. In New York's half of the ninth, the bases were full, but Shafer fanned and Sauer made a beautiful catch of Fletcher's pop-up and doubled Burns at first. Burns' fielding prevented the locals from scoring on three occasions when he made one-handed jumping catches.

Pittsburg 5, Brooklyn 4.
Pittsburg, June 10.—After his players had failed to do anything with the delivery of Bill Wagner, the Brooklyn recruit pitcher from New Orleans,

Manager Fred Clarke, for the third time since 1911, went to bat as a pinch hitter. Unlike the two previous attempts, when he fouled out, Clarke sent a hot liner to right field for two bases, sending Kelley, running for Simon, to third. Byrnes' single then scored Kelley with the winning run in the ninth inning. The locals hammered Rucker hard and he was relieved by Wagner in the third.

St. Louis 5, Boston 7.
St. Louis, June 10.—It took 32 players three hours to play eleven innings today. St. Louis finally defeated Boston 5 to 7. St. Louis used five pitchers and the visitors three. The winning run was scored on Wingo's single after two singles and a sacrifice fly had put men on second and third. Konechty drove in two runs and scored four. He was credited with a home run, a triple and two singles in six attempts. St. Louis was unable to connect with Hess' delivery with men on bases until the seventh.

WRESTLERS HIT AND BITE

Match Between Montour and Brown Is Stopped by Sheriff at Austin.

Austin, June 10.—Sheriff Matthews played the important part in tonight's match between Chief Montour and Pet Brown. He stopped the bout after twenty-nine minutes of wrestling and the Referee L. Howard awoke to the fact that it was his turn to make a move and he forfeited the match to Brown on the ground that the Indian hit Brown twice and bit him once.

The match was more of a dog fight than a wrestling bout from the start, and the Indian didn't get any the best of the deal. He managed to get Brown to the mat twice, but save for this the grapplers centered their tactics to bumping heads and punching each other in the face.

Montour refused to go on until his guarantee was made and thus delayed the bout for nearly an hour.

Montour and Brown are rivals and wrestled in Waco once. Brown lives at Taylor and in wrestling in Austin he was close to home.

Kilbane Defeats Fox.
Oakland, Cal., June 10.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, featherweight champion, defeated Jimmy Fox of this city tonight in the sixth round of their scheduled ten round bout. Fox's seconds threw a sponge in the ring when their man was on the verge of a knockout.

Woman's Tennis Tournament.
Philadelphia, June 10.—Miss Mary Brown of Los Angeles, national champion, and Mrs. Robert Williams, metropolitan champion, easily defeated Mrs. Grant and Miss Taylor of this city in the first round of doubles in the National Women's Lawn Tennis Tournament today.

To Fight July 4.
San Francisco, June 10.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion pugilist, and Joe Rivers of Los Angeles, formally signed articles today for a twenty-round championship contest in this city on the afternoon of July 4.

It has taken nearly two years to complete accurate figures showing that 8,000,754,765 gallons of beer were brewed in the world in 1910, the United States leading with 1,000,010,577 gallons.

Plank Improves as Pitcher the Older He Gets; Is Now 38

Eddie Plank seems to improve with age, for at 38 he is pitching better ball than ever before in his career. Frank Chance, after battling against Plank, recently, declared he was the best southpaw that he had ever faced.

Last season Plank won 26 and lost six games with a team that finished third, while Marquard won 26 and lost 11 with a pennant winner. Still there were no $100-a-week vaudeville offers waiting for Eddie; and it was just as well, as he would undoubtedly have turned them down. No white lights for him, but back to his Gettysburg farm.

Chicago 5, New York 1.
New York, June 10.—Chicago won the third game of the series with New York today 5 to 1.

Scott was effective in every inning but the fifth, when he forced in New York's only run. A great catch by Collins saved him in the eighth. The visitors pounded McConnell hard, Scott hitting a home run with Schaik on base in the fifth.

Boston 7, Cleveland 3.
Boston, June 10.—A lead of five runs which Boston secured in the first inning today proved enough to defeat Cleveland 7 to 3. Boston scored three of its opening tallies off Gregg, who gave way to Steen before the first inning was over and Carrigan, the first man to face the latter, sent in two more runs, with a three-bagger. Collins kept Cleveland's hits scattered. Lajoie got back in the game today and made several feature plays.

Segregation for the Social Evil
Washington, June 10.—"Brass band" methods of reformers in dealing with the social evil, were denounced at today's session of the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. It developed that most of the police department heads favored the segregated districts as opposed to an attempt at total suppression.

Cornelius J. Ford Is Public Printer
Washington, June 10.—Cornelius J. Ford of New Jersey, a labor leader, was nominated by President Wilson as public printer. For ten years he has been at the head of organized labor in New Jersey as president of the New Jersey Federation of Labor. He has been long in politics, has been a printer 31 years and is 46 years old.

One Woman Killed In Mill Strike Riot
Ipswich, Mass., June 10.—One woman was shot and seven other persons were wounded by bullets and many others, including several policemen, were hurt by flying missiles in a strike riot outside the Ipswich Hosiery mills tonight. Fifteen persons, including the leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, were arrested. The woman was Nicoletta Paulelopp, aged 37, a spectator of the fight. All of the wounded are expected to recover.

Police Make Raid and Seize Rifles
London, June 10.—The police raided a warehouse here tonight and discovered between 2000 and 4000 rifles and a similar number of bayonets packed in boxes ready for shipment. The raid was a sequel to the seizure of a quantity of rifles and bayonets on a steamer arriving at Dublin June 6 from Liverpool. This consignment was addressed to Baron Farnham, an Irish peer, at his country seat in county Mayo, and was traced to the same warehouse.

The Chicago police have equipped a boat with a submarine light to expedite the recovery of bodies of drowned persons.

Defend Two Governors for Martial Law Reign—Newspaperman Is Witness.

Charleston, W. Va., June 10.—The power and authority of the government of the United States came to West Virginia today to determine who is responsible for the conditions which have kept the state in virtual civil war for more than a year.

Opening the investigation of the coal mine strike, which has dealt death and destruction in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mine sections, the senate mine strike investigating committee tonight called upon the military authorities for the records of the proceedings prior to and under the declaration of martial law in the strike territory.

Neither the attorneys for the mine operators or the workers were prepared to begin the examination of witnesses when the committee opened its hearing this afternoon and the first witness was not called until the committee met tonight. A formidable array of counsel was on hand, however.

Two lengthy preliminary statements were filed with the committee

IN COTTON MARKET

ACTIVE, AND AT TIMES THERE WAS A SHOWING OF A LOT OF EXCITEMENT.

All Positions Make New High Ground. The Weather Reports Are Favorable.

New York, June 10.—The cotton market was active today and at times showed considerable excitement, with all positions making new high ground for the movement. The close was steady and from 8 to 10 points net higher.

The opening was firm at an advance of 6 to 10 points in response to higher late cables from Liverpool, larger English spot sales and reports that a favorable breaking of the Indian monsoon would mean another year of good times in Lancashire. Early weather reports were considered generally favorable and southern crop advances an optimistic average. There was an active demand for old crop positions, while the selling was limited and after some irregularity prices worked sharply higher.

The unsettled state of affairs in the stock market was considered by some as unfavorable to the cotton market, but Wall Street houses were active buyers to cover shorts and during the afternoon demand became more active owing to reports of excessive rainfall and low night temperatures in the eastern belt. July contracts led the advance as there were very few sellers around the ring, and that position sold up to 12.55, or 37 points above the closing figures of last night. New crop months meanwhile sold 17 to 19 points net higher, but after the execution of stop orders which had been caught on the return the market met heavy realization. Closing prices were several points off from the best.

Houses with French and other continental connections were buyers of near months and early new crop deliveries here, while Liverpool traded both ways in July. New Orleans bought new crops early, but houses with southern connections were free sellers on the advance.

New Orleans, June 10.—Cotton was active today and during the day had a decided tendency to advance. In the afternoon the market acted over bought and heavy realization of profits by the long side took place, which scaled the advance down materially, although at no time were prices under the level of yesterday's close. Accompanying this liquidation were rumors that July dealing in New York had been settled. These rumors were emphatically denied by the parties interested but they had considerable effect just the same. The market finally closed steady at a net gain for the day of 6 to 9 points on the most active months.

The opening was steady at a rise of 3 to 5 points on good cables and the cold wave over the cotton country. Bulls also claimed that the wet weather prevailing over the belt was beginning to be beneficial. The market gradually rose, being helped by the forecast of more showers and rain for the entire cotton region and by reports that a considerable part of the buying was coming from traders who were short of cotton and long of stocks and who were sacrificing their cotton in order to be better able to carry their stocks.

The height of the rise came in the early afternoon when the trading months stood 15 to 20 points over yesterday's final figures. Here satisfied longs took their profits on a large scale and the rumors about the July position were started. Prices fell to within half a dozen points of yesterday's close. On the close the market steadied up a point or two.

IN THE GRAIN MARKET

BEARISH TURN IN WHEAT UNDER WEAK INFLUENCE OF THE STOCK MARKET.

Close Is Nervous—Frost Reports Keep Corn Firm, and Oats Weakened.

Chicago, June 10.—Wheat prices took a bearish turn today, influenced chiefly by the extreme weakness in the stock market. There was a nervous close at a loss of 1/4 to 1/2 to 3/4 cent. Corn gained a shade to 1/4 to 1/2 cent and oats declined 1/4 to 1/2 cent.

In provisions the outcome was the same as last night to 7 1/4c up. Violent breaks in securities because of the railroad rate decision had a disheartening effect on wheat bulls right at the outset. Large purchases for millers and exporters were made at Duluth brought about rallies, but not of the lasting kind and there was no time when the market came up to last night's level.

Frost reports kept corn firm, and oats weakened because of the government figures showing larger acreage than expected. Provisions at first received a lift owing to higher prices for hogs. Later, however, selling by leading longs in pork acted as an offset in part.

EXCEPTS STREET CAR LINES

Interstate Commerce Commission does not regulate the Local Companies.

Washington, June 9.—Street car lines are not subject to regulation by the interstate commerce commission. The supreme court so decided today in annulling the commission's order for a five cent reduction of fare from Omaha, Neb., to Council Bluffs, Iowa. Justice Lamar, announcing the court's decision, said that congress in using the word "railroad" in the interstate commerce laws had not used it in the sense of a "local" line such as a street railway. Several states have held the word "railroad" included a "street railroad" and twelve that it does not.

Judge Sanborn, Hook and Adams, of the United States circuit court, held that the commission did not possess the power to regulate street railways crossing state lines while the commerce court held that it did.

Attorneys for the commission interpreted the decision as not depriving the commission of jurisdiction over electric lines, which are competitors of steam railroads in interstate commerce.

Railroad Personnel. E. M. Kinney, chief clerk to Superintendent Matthews of the Katy, has gone to Dallas on company business.

Hugh Martin, traveling freight agent for the Illinois Central, was in Waco yesterday afternoon.

IS FOR BETTER A. &amp; M. COLLEGE

FEDERAL JUDGE RUSSELL MAKES ADDRESS TO GRADUATING CLASS.

PROTESTS AGAINST SCHEMES

Texas Has Been Too Stingy With the School—Valedictorian Against Efforts to Destroy.

College Station, June 10.—In the Baccalaureate address to the graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical College this morning, Judge Gordon Russell of the Federal district court at Sherman protested vigorously against any measure that would work harm to the Agricultural and Mechanical College in Brazos county.

"If there is any one who should keep out of politics it is the minister or the jurist," the speaker said. "However I am a citizen of Texas, a believer in higher education, a friend to all state educational schools, and I am unalterably opposed to any movement that would cripple or tend to injure the A. & M. college. I am opposed also to any movement that has for its aim the merging of the University and the College or the absorption of the College by the University."

"I am for the greatest university and the greatest agricultural and mechanical college, and I believe that these two institutions can be most nearly realized if they are maintained separately."

Judge Russell deplored the lack of needed and important manufactures in Texas and made the statement that very few persons in the vast audience which heard him wore garments, the materials for which were made in Texas. He made a plea for better trained men and said that the A. & M. by putting into the field capable men is paving the way for the establishment of these needed factories. Texas always has been interested in education, he said, but declared it a burning shame that while the state of Iowa set aside $450,000 for the maintenance of its agricultural college in 1912 that Texas only appropriated $200,000 for her A. & M. ignorance, he declared, is the costliest thing, while education is the cheapest thing a man can secure.

Diplomas were given to 121 seniors, nine of that number finishing in the fifth year work, or postgraduate courses. In addition to that number eight boys completed the two-year agricultural course.

R. E. Simon of Houston, electrical engineering graduate, was valedictorian and delivered a spirited address in which he praised the work done by the A. & M. College and denounced those who "are seeking to destroy its usefulness."

Diplomas were presented to the graduates by Col. E. B. Cushing of Houston, president of the board of directors, while President Milner of the college delivered the certificates to the two-year men.

Judge John I. Gulon of Ballinger, a member of the board, commended the two-year course men in a short speech. The commencement exercises were concluded tonight with the final ball.

Polly Eargleston of Smithville, president of the final ball association, and Miss Wilma Higgins of Houston led the grand march. More than 500 couples were in the march. Young women from all sections of the state participated. Special trains were run out of College Station by the H. & T. C. and practically all of the students left at midnight for their homes. By tomorrow night the campus will be deserted practically save for instructors and other employees of the college who remain here during the summer.

RESULT OF NEW TARIFF BILL

Schedule Showing the Decrease in Duties Has Been Prepared for Reference.

Washington, June 9.—A table prepared by the senate finance committee showing comparative figures based on the Underwood tariff bill and the present tariff laws show the average ad valorem rate of the proposed law to be 32.55, as against 43.64 per cent under the Payne-Aldrich bill.

The estimated loss of revenue through the augmented free list in the Underwood bill would be $34,718,329 on an import valuation of $105,484,466. Revenue under the proposed bill, exclusive of the income tax, is estimated at $264,701,120, as compared with $204,216,094 under the present rates.

With the income tax revenue aggregating approximately $80,000,000, the total revenue under the proposed bill would aggregate about $344,700,000.

The sundry schedule wherein the committee has added many articles not heretofore taxed, or have increased rates on luxuries, the ad valorem equivalent shows an increase of $4,484,466. The sugar revenue would decrease from $60,000,000 at the rate of $20,000,000 a year until sugar goes on the free list in three years.

Majority members of the senate finance committee will meet tomorrow to prepare the measure for the Democratic caucus next week.

Attend the Great Cotton Convention Dallas, July 10-11

It is expected that many thousands of people from all parts of the South who are concerned in a better system for MARKET AND SALE OF COTTON will be in attendance at this convention.

The most vital and important question before the people of the South today is a system for the market of cotton that will bring to the producer the profit that his toil deserves.

This system has been fully worked out by the Southern States Cotton Corporation, and in the acid test of thorough and critical trial it has not been found wanting, because it has already afforded relief to thousands of farmers.

In other words, there is no element of experiment in it. You have only to become identified with the movement—contract your cotton to the Southern States Cotton Corporation and receive in full measure its benefits, which means simply FIFTEEN CENTS FOR COTTON—and nothing less.

DECIDE TODAY TO ATTEND THE SECOND GREAT CONVENTION and get the facts—first hand.

AFFECTS NO STATE RIGHT.

Railroads Must Prove Rates Are a Burden.

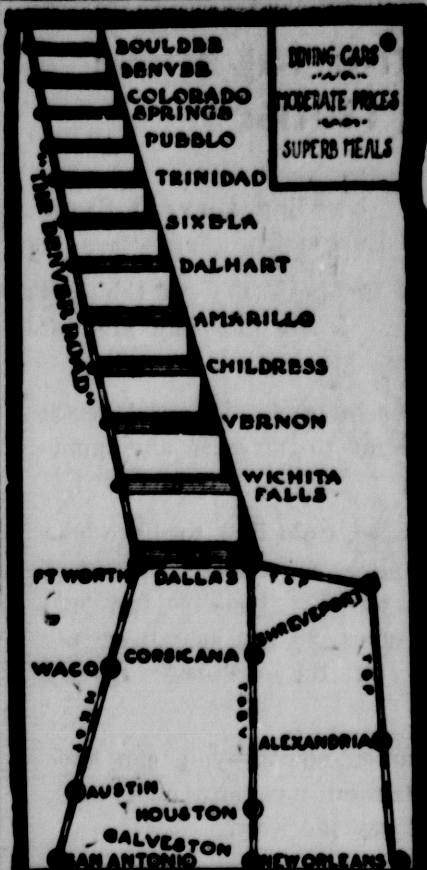

Washington, June 9.—Summarizing the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the Minnesota state rate case, Attorney General McReynolds tonight said:

"The court holds that congress in the interstate commerce act has not deprived the states of the right of fixing maximum intrastate rates. They still have that power. In contesting a rate fixed by the state on the ground that the rate is confiscatory the decision says that the burden of proof of confiscation falls on the railroad. The court found that the Minneapolis and St. Paul railroad had established that the rates affecting them were confiscatory, but that the Northern Pacific and Great Northern had failed in such proof."

DOLLINS REPORTS ON INVESTIGATION

RECOMMENDS THAT FIRE CHIEF AND HIS DRIVER BE GIVEN REPRIMAND.

NO ACTION HAS BEEN TAKEN

Commissioner Receives the Report, But Does Not Read the Testimony. Mayor Wants It Acted On.

The city commission failed to take any action with reference to the recommendation contained in the report of Fire Commissioner John Dollins, submitted in written form yesterday, covering investigation into the causes of the accident near Sixth and Austin streets the night of June 3, when the automobile of Fire Chief A. M. Prescott, and two private machines were more or less damaged, and a negro injured. Commissioner Dollins recommended that Chief Prescott and his chauffeur, Joe Monteleone, be reprimanded.

He also stated that due to the fact that Chief Prescott and his driver were very efficient men, and therefore seemed to be a misunderstanding with reference to the time of night that the fire apparatuses are to run on Austin street, that the reprimand be the only action taken.

After hearing the report read, Commissioner Littlefield moved it be received and filed.

Mayor Mackey asked, "Without approval?" to which Commissioner Littlefield said: "We can take that up later."

Commissioner Dollins asked if there was to be no reprimand and Mayor Mackey said: "I am not willing to file the report without some action."

Commissioner Littlefield said: "We can take it up later, confer over it and treat the action on the report as a separate matter. I think the commission should go on record as opposing fast driving from one station to another, and we should discuss the report generally later."

Dollins Wants Some Action. Commissioner Dollins again insisted that some action be taken on the report, saying: "If you want to adopt what I have done, call these firemen before the commission and reprimand them. I have done my duty as I saw it."

Commissioner Littlefield said: "We might order more severe penalty than reprimand." To which Commissioner Dollins said: "That's all right." He also urged the report be acted upon, stating that Commissioner Littlefield's motion practically pigeonholed that he did not want to do that, saying it could be considered later.

The mayor stated it could be reconsidered if a motion was made to that effect, and Commissioner Foster moved to reconsider. Commissioner Caulfield seconded the motion and all voted yes.

Commissioner Caulfield then moved that the report be received for further consideration. This motion passed. Mayor Mackey then said: "Mr. Dollins, you are up to it to speak and refer to any action on the report."

Mr. Dollins rose and said: "I went as deep into the investigation as I could and I dealt with the matter as I found it, and I consider the report to be a fair and an impartial one. I could put it. Now it's up to the commission to adopt the punishment I set out, or reject it."

The commission took no action whatever, the motion to receive for further consideration prevailing.

Commissioner Dollins report in full was as follows:

Waco, Tex., June 6, 1913.
To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the City of Waco:

Gentlemen:—On Tuesday last I was instructed to investigate the accident between Fifth and Sixth street on the night of the 2nd instant. I commenced this investigation Wednesday morning and continued same until late Thursday evening, in order to have before me all the facts of the case. I have done and am handing you herewith sworn statements of the following witnesses: A. M. Prescott, Joe Monteleone, Joe Waddell, Louis Proctor, George Bird, J. C. Jackson, R. L. Warren, M. E. Mitchell, Lemon Bass, Mack Taylor, C. H. Shackles and E. T. Simon. You will note that all of these statements are full and complete.

From a careful consideration of all the evidence obtainable as well as the distance the automobile ran from the time it hit the hole on the east side of Austin and Sixth street until it stopped, I have reached the conclusion that the automobile used by the chief of the fire department was running at an unnecessarily high rate of speed at the time, and had the same been operated according to my instructions the accident would not have happened. There had been no specific time mentioned, but I had instructed them to run sufficiently slow so as not to endanger the life or property of any one.

Time Limit Misunderstood. I had also given instructions that all fire apparatus should be kept off of Austin street until after 3 o'clock a. m., but this investigation has developed the fact that Chief Prescott in some manner misunderstood me and his orders to the fire department were to the effect that they could use such street after 11 o'clock p. m., and as this seems to be an honest misunderstanding on his part no one can be censured on account of the use of Austin street in this instance.

The driver also gave as a reason for using Austin street on the night of the accident was the fact that on Washington street near Eighth street, where the Masonic Temple is in course of construction, over half of the street was taken up with material and there were loose rock scattered over practically the entire street. This matter has been looked into and the contractors have been instructed to keep their material so placed that not over one-third of the street is used for same.

Orders for Safety. I have given Chief Prescott and also both of the assistant chiefs to understand that in the future no fire apparatus must use Austin street in the business section at any time unless the fire originates on Austin street. They have also been instructed that all motor driven apparatus must be operated at a reasonable rate of speed and any one found guilty of unnecessary fast or reckless driving will be summarily dealt with.

TO MEET AT LEROY DEFECTS IN WALKS

DEMONSTRATIONS OF ROAD MACHINERY TO BE HELD IN THE COUNTY.

Commissioners Will Meet 'All Machinery Men on That Point—Repairs on Court House.

The county commissioners will make the inspection of gasoline engines a general affair. At the meeting yesterday, June 24 was decided upon as the date for witnessing a demonstration of tractors at Leroy. This date was made in order to give all machine houses opportunity to ship their engines to Leroy for the demonstration. The commission will probably purchase a tractor and desires to see the different makes in operation before purchasing.

The meeting of the commission yesterday was devoted to routine matters. It was decided to make repairs to the extent of $300 to $500 on the County Home, and the auditor was instructed to advertise for bids for kitchen supplies for the home. A new kitchen and range is to be installed. Contract for furnishing groceries to the home for the year was let to E. R. Bowman, his bid on the goods called for being $1,843.64.

The commission did not accept the proposal of an agency to search for taxation personal property and vendor lien notes which might be escaping the tax assessor. This proposal was made some weeks ago.

Authority was granted the auditor to cancel a number of warrants that had been lost, and issue duplicates or new warrants instead.

The bid of the McLendon Hardware company for vehicles was accepted. Their bid was $77.50 for a buggy for use of J. N. Boyd, commissioner; $108 for two wagons for Commissioner C. N. Smith's road gang, and $115 for a spring wagon for the county road superintendent's department.

The bill of $275 to Pippin & McLane for two miles was ordered paid. Bill of Buff-Buff Mfg. Co. for $324.35 for instruments for the county road superintendent's department was approved.

The following allowances were made to secure land to widen Cottonwood road: Mrs. Johana Palonsky, $102.63, H. C. Craig, $69.55, and W. C. Callen $87.50.

CITY WILL REQUIRE PROPERTY OWNERS TO CONFORM TO GRADE.

Suits for Personal Injuries to Include Owners Who Have Not Repaired.

Defects in sidewalks where pedestrians might fall and receive injuries must immediately be remedied.

Following a report from the fire marshal yesterday morning to the effect that he had found twenty-eight defects in sidewalks in the city, the commission instructed the city attorney to mail notices to each property owner where such defects existed, ordering each to immediately place the sidewalk in normal condition. This notice will contain an explanation as to why such defects should not exist. Following this notice each property owner will be informed individually that if he does not comply with the city's instructions and the city is sued for any injuries that might be sustained by reason of the defect in the walks, he will be made a party to the suit.

The report of Fire Marshall Dan Nicholson followed instructions given at the last meeting of the commission. His report states that twenty-eight depressions in walks, just as dangerous to pedestrians as that on Washington street where P. T. Mooney was injured, existed. The city paid Mr. Mooney $250 as damages for injuries received when he stepped into a depression in the walk just opposite the court house.

These places classed as defects were in the main depressions in the walk made to provide entrance to automobile garages, and to stores. The commission decided to revoke all permits granted for construction of such depressions and to compel all walks to be placed at normal grade. This action followed general discussion of danger to pedestrians because of the "cups" in the walks. Several suits for personal injury, where the plaintiff has been injured from stepping into such depressions, have been filed against the city.

ARE TO REMODEL BLUE ROOM

City Will Ask for Bids to Provide Quarters for City Court.

Plans for rearranging the Blue Room at the city hall as a place for holding police court, were presented to the city commission yesterday morning by T. Brooks Pearson, architect. Mr. Pearson prepared the plans from instructions of Mayor Mackey, following the decision at a recent meeting that this room be converted into a court room. The plans submitted call for an expenditure of $350. It is proposed to build a jury room, witness room and jury box, and also a spiral stairway which will enable prisoners to enter the court room without going by way of the front stairway. Also plans for rearranging the engineer's office, which entail an expenditure of $175, were submitted. Bids for the work will be called for to be opened June 20.

Additions to the city jail were also discussed. These call for the conversion of the present court room into calaboose cells. The estimated cost of this work would be $2,000. The commission took no action on this matter, being disinclined to spend any great amount of money on the present city building.

Plans for the addition to the jail are to be further inspected.

FIVE MILES AN HOUR

IS TO BE THE LIMIT OF SPEED IN TURNING CORNERS IN CITY.

No Automobile to Pass a Standing Street Car on the Right Side.

An ordinance regulating the speed of automobiles in turning corners in the fire district, and fixing a penalty for violation of same and an ordinance prohibiting standing of vehicles or automobiles on the west side of North Fifth street between Austin street and the alley, were passed under suspended rules by the city commission yesterday morning.

These regulations are the result of the discussion of safety in the streets had at a previous meeting of that body. The city attorney was instructed to bring to the city commission and yesterday afternoon passed.

The ordinance prohibiting standing of vehicles on that portion of North Fifth street between Austin street and the alley, is the result of a change in schedule of street cars under which all cars going out Austin street stop on Fifth street just off of Austin to land and unload passengers on Austin street. With the new order of the street cars, it was deemed necessary to clear that part of the street of all standing vehicles.

The ordinance regulating speed of automobiles turning corners in the fire limits, places five miles an hour as the limit of the cars and imposes a penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $100 for violation of the provisions of the law.

This speed was thought to be slow by Commissioner Caulfield, but on motion the ordinance was adopted unamended. The ordinance also carried with it a provision requiring all automobiles to stop when passing a standing car on the right side while the street car is unloading or loading passengers.
